March 30th is the day of the foundation of the French "Bistro". In 1814 the Russian Army entered Paris; the streets were flooded with the Russian Soldiers and Officers. Just then the 'bistro' originated from the Russian word 'bystro' (which means 'quickly'), which the Russian Cossacks used to hasten the owners of the taverns. That is how the term "Bistro" for the café originated in 1814.
