

"A Discovery; The Psalmist Project"

DVD Order Form

NTSC video format: 4 x 3
Running Time: 119 minutes

25 interviews - over 360 rare images, maps, original sketches, 17 psalms and narration, all compiled into an educational, informative, and entertaining story in video format

Commentary by various authors, historians, and some of the still-practicing Psalmists in BC, documents the history of this unique and artful form of worship (called 'Soul Communion'), its evolution, and what psalm-singing actually is. Through interviews with youth, the video speculates too on whether this ancient form of spiritual expression can survive into the future.

"A Discovery: The Psalmist Project" is narrated by 12-year-old A.J. Mahonin who during this project, discovers both his heritage, and this form of meditative expression, and delivers this story in a heart-felt, thought-provocative manner. The video will bring an understanding of many Doukhobor life-concepts to people outside the Doukhobor community - but will especially enlighten everyone on this 'mysterious' and seemingly, unique Doukhobor chant practice.
